CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Be the man, not always a divine injunction. Often said by someone who embraces only the tough side of masculinity! Joy peace and love, get lost in 'stuffing it', 'sucking it up' and 'leaping into attack mode'!

If one is going to summit mountains, in whatever form they present themselves, one will need the masculine strength of sucking it up, in the form of endurance. If one is going to be a protector of one's family one will need to step up and yes sometimes move into attack mode to deal with the wolf that comes by night."

During the weekend we will search for your strength that is locked up and bound and we will seek to unlock the wounded heart that has robbed you of feelings.

By the way I plan to whip your butt going up the mountain: up for a challenging weekend!!
